Executive Director Statement

In 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic changed all of our lives in countless ways. During this tumultuous time, schools and businesses were closed, routines and supports were disrupted, and many lives were lost. We also saw gun violence surge across the county and here in Cook County. Tragically, but not surprisingly, our communities that were already vulnerable due to historic disinvestment, high rates of crime, violence and incarceration have suffered the most throughout this wave of violence. Gun violence is a complex issue rooted in our history and exacerbated by the prevalence of guns and lack of resources, opportunities and support. Despite its complexity, we have seen that gun violence is preventable when adequate investment is made in evidence-based programming that meets the needs of residents.

In 2021, the federal government announced the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) which would bring approximately $ 1 billion of funding to Cook County. To prepare for this funding, the county began a strategic planning process which incorporated intentional community engagement to understand what was most important to residents. Residents and county leadership were aligned in that they saw economic opportunity and community safety as some of the most urgent priorities to address. The Cook County Justice Advisory Council (JAC) designed the Cook County Gun Violence Prevention and Reduction Grant initiative to address the local gun violence crisis by supporting organizations providing an array of evidence-based programming within county communities experiencing the highest rates of gun violence and shootings.

The response to this grant opportunity was overwhelming and inspiring with the JAC receiving an unprecedented number of grant applications. Despite the historic amount of funding available, the JAC was not able to fund all of the compelling programs that were proposed under this initiative. While these limitations are disappointing, we are motivated and empowered by what we have learned from this process. The volume of high-quality, innovative programs proposed under this initiative has shown the capacity, dedication and expertise of organizations working to address gun violence in Cook County. The response to this grant solicitation has the potential to shape and influence levels of funding for these kinds of services in Cook County for many years to come.

The mission of the JAC is to promote equitable, human-centered, community-driven justice system innovation and practice through rigorous stakeholder engagement, policy work, service coordination, and grantmaking that increases community safety and reduces reliance on incarceration. As we embark on the official grant period (9/1/2022 - 8/31/2025) for the Cook County Gun Violence Prevention and Reduction Grant initiative, we do so centering our mission and the values that guide our work. We know that working together, we can address gun violence in our communities and we will do so in a way that is evidence informed and community affirmed. We are grateful for the participation of all those who pursued this funding opportunity and we stand in solidarity with all organizations engaged in the challenging but meaningful work of bringing lasting peace to our neighborhoods.

Avik Das

Executive Director, Cook County Justice Advisory Council

Introduction

In response to high levels of gun violence experienced since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, Cook County designated $85 million to the Safe & Thriving Communities ARPA Initiative: The Violence Prevention and Reduction Grant Portfolio. The grant initiative was designed to fund a diverse array of service providers focused on supporting residents at high risk of experiencing gun violence as either a victim or perpetrator particularly in communities with the highest rates of shooting incidents and shooting-related homicides in Chicago and Suburban Cook County. Applications for funding were open to 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations providing violence prevention services in areas of need, throughout Cook County. Applicant organizations were asked to propose creative community-driven programming, leveraging violence prevention strategies in at least one of the following categories: Prevention and Support Services, Victim Services, Case Management, Hospital Based Services, and Street Outreach and Intervention.

The Executive Summary of the Cook County Gun Violence Prevention and Reduction Grant opportunity serves as an overview of all major aspects of the grant application, review, and award process. This document is designed to promote transparency by detailing the steps and outcomes of these processes. The Executive Summary is shared with all organizations who applied for the funding opportunity and is available to the public at CookCountyIL.gov/JACGrants.

Grant Opportunity Announcement

The Cook County Gun Violence Prevention and Reduction Services Grant Opportunity was formally released on March 8, 2022 when all application materials were made available to the public on the JAC Grants website, www.cookcountyil.gov/JACGrants.

Prior to the release of the application materials, the grant opportunity was announced via press release and email to Cook County and Justice Advisory Council listservs. To share information on the funding opportunity, the JAC participated in the Joint Readiness Summit on American Rescue Plan Act funded initiatives held on February 4, 2022 and hosted a series of virtual information sessions on the grant opportunity on March 1, 2 & 4 2022. The Gun Violence Prevention and Reduction Grant opportunity was also promoted on Cook County social media, local radio stations and at townhall meetings organized by the county.

Immediately following the release of the application materials on March 8, 2022, the JAC hosted a virtual pre submittal conference on March 14, 2022. The pre submittal conference included an overview of the grant opportunity, application materials, application evaluation criteria, and grant submission details. The pre-submittal conference also included a question and answer session. Frequently asked questions were then compiled and made available on the JAC grants website.

The application deadlines for the grant opportunity were April 11, 2022 for Track 1 (proposals over $1.5 million) applicants and May 9, 2022 for Track 2 and 3 (proposals below $1.5 million) applicants. The separate deadlines were designed to encourage participation from organizations of different sizes and accommodate proposals of different scales and scopes.

Application Evaluation Process

Recruitment and Selection of Grant Reviewers

The Recruitment process for grant reviewers began in February, 2022. The JAC worked to establish requirements and guidelines for grant reviewers that would serve as the standard for all grant reviewers participating in the grant review process. Interested grant reviewers were asked to complete an online application and submit their resume.

As a result of robust recruitment efforts, the JAC was able to identify a diverse pool of grant reviewers. The pool included individuals with a wide variety of professional expertise which included staff of Cook County Commissioners, Cook County staff from the Offices of the President, Bureau of Economic Development, Procurement, Budget and Finance, Cook County Department of Public Health, Office of the Chief Judge, States Attorney, Public Defender, Emergency Management and Asset Management, Cook

County Juvenile Detention, Cook County Juvenile Probation, Cook County Bureau of Administration, Cook County Justice Advisory Council, as well as qualified community members including program directors, administrators, grant administrators, consultants, and leaders from public and private industry. Over 100 individuals applied to be grant reviewers for this opportunity, of which approximately 70 dedicated reviewers participated in the application review process. These individuals provided more than 700 individual reviews of the applications.

Grant Reviewer Training

The JAC notified grant reviewers of their selection and asked them to complete a confidentiality form and conflict of interest form. Two grant reviewer trainings were hosted on April 8, 2022 and May 6, 2022. The grant reviewer training covered the role and responsibilities of the grant reviewers, grant application criteria, rubric, and scoring; grant review panel meetings, and an overview of the GovGrants Enterprise Grant Management (EGMS) System which was utilized to track scoring and comments. Each reviewer was asked to review at least 10 grant applications and enter their evaluation in the EGMS system. Reviewers had 14-20 days to complete the reviews.

Grant Review Panel Meetings

Each grant application received by the JAC was reviewed by a minimum of 3 grant reviewers organized into review panels. Panels consisted of teams of 3 grant reviewers, including a review panel lead. After grant application evaluations were completed and submitted in the EGMS system, the JAC Grants Coordinator identified those applications that were not recommended for funding by at least one or more reviewers on the panel. When an application was not recommended for funding, the Grants Coordinator contacted the review panel lead to schedule a grant review panel meeting with all members of the panel. In meetings, the panels discussed the grant application(s) in detail, including strengths and weaknesses of applications which were not recommended for funding. Review panel feedback was compiled into a report that will be made available to applicant organizations upon request.

Executive Review Committee

The Executive Review Committee is charged with making the final determinations of proposals recommended for funding to the Cook County Board of Commissioners. The committee reviews applications with the recommendations and notes from review panels and considers logistical considerations such as proposal scale and available funding levels.

The Executive Review Team met over a period of 2 weeks (May 10 - May 20, 2022) to discuss Track 1 applications. The Executive Team recognized that levels of funding requested in Track 1 alone required a high level of selectivity to ensure adequate funding was available for the robust programs proposed within this track, as well for the relatively smaller awards in the remaining 2 tracks. The following were among the factors the Executive Team considered most important in making their final determination for Track 1 awards:

- Did the application include robust collaboration and/or form a coalition of service providers?
- o Did the application cover multiple geographic locations?
- o Did the application offer multiple services for program participants?
- o Did the application demonstrate the capacity to address gun violence?
- Was the amount requested justified based on the size and depth of the program?
- Was a reliable referral stream for program participants evident or already established?
- Did the applicant propose relatively unique services or service relatively unique populations or community?
- Did the applicant and/or proposed collaboration have other funding streams supporting their operation?
- The level of clarity as to how the applicant will scale up operations and manage the funding level requested.

The Executive Team made the following final recommendations for grant awards to the Cook County Board of Commissioners. These recommendations were approved by the Cook County Board on June 16, 2022.
